Making time for small things

Today, I decided to slow down.

I made time for a quiet morning.
〜のために時間をつくった

Instead of checking my phone, I opened my notebook.

A warm cup of tea helped me settle in.
落ち着く

I wrote down one thing I wanted to remember.

It did not have to be anything special.

Small moments can make an ordinary day feel different.

Tomorrow, I want to make time for them again.

1 1. slow down = take things slowly

2 2. rather than checking my phone

3 3. It could be something simple.

Words to keep

- ☑ make time for + noun — 〜のために時間をつくる
- ☐ instead of + -ing — 〜する代わりに
- ☐ settle in — 落ち着く
- ☐ write down — 書き留める

A useful pattern

Instead of checking my phone, I opened my notebook.

Instead of + -ing / I + past tense

My own words

I make time for a quiet morning.
